WOMEN SERVING OVERSEAS INVITED

Reunion of League to Be Held Wednesday Evening at Y. W. C. A.

All women who served the allied cause overseas between August 1, 1914 and January 1, 1920, who now reside in the District of Columbia are invited to attend the reunion of the Women' Overseas Service League of Washington to be held next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the F street headquarters of the Young Women's Christian Association. Mrs. D. Brader Kyle of Philadelphia, chairman of the national legislative committee of the league, will deliver the principal address, her subject to be "What a Congressional Charter Means to Overseas Women."

Delegatés from various parts of the Delegates from various parts of the United States came recently to Weshington and appeared before the House judiciary committee in support of the bill of Representative George S. Graham of Pennsylvania, providing a national charter for the organization. The hearings were successful and the bill was ordered favorably reported January 17. Action on it in the House, however, has been delayed, but its advocates expect prompt action in its advocates expect prompt action in

What Congress Is Doing

The Senate.

BY WILLIAM J. WHEATLEY. Suffrage for the residents of the District of Columbia is expected to be brought to the fore this week by the Senate District committee. The hearings have been printed, and senators have been studying them. Senator Ball, chairman of the Senate District committee, said last night that he planned to bring up the several resolutions providing various forms of suffrage here at the regular meeting next Wednesday, if he could get a full committee for their consideration. The l Knickerbocker disaster and the re-cent snowstorm are expected to develop support for some form of suffrage and representation.

The District committee also probably will consider the Pomerene resolution for the extention of the Ball rent act for a period of two years at the Wednesday meeting. The matter is in the hands of a subcommittee, headed by Senator Ball, author of the original measure, which is considering several amendments characterized to make the act more stringent than the present one. The subcommittee is is expected to meet tomorrow or Tuesday, and it is the hope that it will be ready to make a full re-port to the whole committee Wed-

This meeting was to have been held last week. but owing to the Knickerbocker disaster, it was postponed. There will be but one more hearing, and that will be for the school offi-

Senator Calder of New York, is considering the introduction of a bill to require builders in the Dis-trict of Columbia to be licensed under an examination system. He introduced a bill last week which would require architects to be examined and registered.

The bill providing for the pur-chase of Klingle Ford Valley and Piney Branch Valley parks and the Patterson tract, as a part of the park system, was favorably re-ported to the Senate by Senator Ball, chairman of the District committee. The bill is on the calendar, and probably will be given consideration during the week. Its passage will be pressed when it comes up.

The Capper co-operating marketing bill was considered at length during the week, and the Senate will meet tomorrow at 11 o'clock to resume consideration of this measure. Lengthy debate will accompany this bill, being confined principally to the legal features.

The House.

BY WILL P. KENNEDY. Action by the House on two appropriation bills will be the principal business this week. The District of Columbia appropriation bill, which has been debated with heat for four days, is unfinished business and comes up again Tuesday, and will be passed either Tuesday or Wednesday.

The bill providing funds for the legislative establishments, including the government printing office, was reported to the House on Friday and comes up for consideration on Thursday, with the expectation that it will be finished on Satur-

Tomorrow is unanimous consent day. Wednesday is calendar Wednesday and the call rests with the committee on claims. This is the second day for the claims committee, and calendar Wednesday may be dispensed with if the Dis-trict bill is not finished Tuesday. The ways and means committee will consider the so-called "sol-diers' bonus bill" all this week, with the expectation of reporting the week following.

SCORES ECONOMY

Mr. Byrnes Voices Fear President Is Not Conversant With Affairs.

Declaration that the economies which President Harding and Director Dawes of the budget announced Friday at the second business meeting of the government were largely of a "paper" variety was made yesterday by Representative Byrnes of South Carolina, a Democratic member of the House appropriations committee, who in a formal statement voiced the "fear" that Mr. Harding had been so absorbed in other matters that he was not conversant "with the existing situation" in government finances.

Points Out Requests. "According to the press." Mr. Byrnes' statement said, "a direct saving of $32,000,000 and an indirect saving of more than $104,000,000 had been accomplished in less than six months. The fact is that as against this alleged saving, the President, at the instance of the budget bureau, has recently submitted requests for additional appropriations as deficien-cies, amounting to $180,704,286, and within a few days the Congress will within a few days the Congress will commence consideration of another deficiency bill to take care of this shortage in funds. This amount is in addition to the urgent deficiency bill appropriating $50,556,222, and the first deficiency bill appropriating $105,277,443. If the $180,704,285 now solved by the President is granted it. asked by the President is granted, it will make the total deficiencies to date $336,537,953. "I rejoice that the President reiterated his opposition to deficiencies, be-cause I hesitate to think what amount would be requested if he were not opposed to deficiencies."

Only Postponed, He Says. Representative Byrnes said that if the amounts mentioned had been saved the Treasury would show it. He declared that no such showing, however, had been made and added "I fear the reason why it is not done is that the alleged savings in most instances consist only in the postponement of actual expenditures postponement of actual expenditures until the next fiscal year."

Mr. Byrnes declared that the supplemental estimates for the next fiscal year, amounting to $80,083.220, added to the total amount requested for the fiscal year 1923, would make the total $109,296,365 more than the amount appropriated for the current fiscal year.

A beautiful bud in our garden
We watched with such tender care, And forgot, in our love and devotion. The Heavenly Gardener, had planted

And so, when an angel picked it,
Our hearts were torn with despair;
But, oh, what a comfort the promise—
We all shall meet over there.
